equipment as it can spare, so that they can take up projects with their specialised knowledge and experience. In this context, BGML Employees, Supervisors and Officers United Forum submitted its proposal to take over the assets of Bharat Gold Mines Limited (BGML) and to run the mines as well as extract gold from tailing dumps.

(c) and (d) A reference from Global Gold Mines Industrial Co-operative Society Ltd. for revival of BGML has also been received. However, no detailed proposal has been received from them.

(e) The proposal of the BGML Employees, Supervisors and Officers United Forum was processed by the Government of India only after ascertaining their representative character. The Government of Karnataka as well as Ministry of Labour, Government of India had reported that this Forum has the support of majority of the ex-employees. On receipt of a reference in August, 2006 addressed to the Deputy Commissioner, Kolar District by Labour Officer, Government of Karnataka stating that Global Gold Mines Industrial Co-operative Society Ltd. was registered on 25.6.2004 under the Karnataka Cooperative Society Act having 2858 employees as its members/Ministry of Mines, Government of India has written to the State Government of Karnataka and Ministry of Labour, Government of India to confirm as to which of the society in BGML is having majority membership of employees of BGML so as to enable this Ministry to determine future course of action.
